Pastor's Weavings Someone said to me the other day, "there are so many of us suffering with illnesses". I notice this as well and wish I could take you all up in my arms and make you better, each and everyone. Seeing as this is beyond my power let me put you in touch with some powerful words that may lift your spirits. John O'Donohue writes spiritual poems for occasions in our lives when we need spiritual words to see us through. He wrote this one called "For Suffering". I hope you read this slowly to yourself and hear me saying it to you.

*May you be blessed in the holy names of those
Who, without you knowing it,
Help to carry and lighten your pain.*

*May you know serenity
When you are called
To enter the house of suffering.*

*May a window of light always surprise you.
May you be granted the wisdom
To avoid false resistance;
When suffering knocks on the door of your life,
May you glimpse its eventual gifts.*

*May you be able to receive the fruits of suffering.
May memory bless and protect you
With the hard-earned light of past travail;
To remind you that you have survived before
And though the darkness now is deep,
You will soon see approaching light.*

*May the grace of time heal your wounds.
May you know that though the storm might rage,
Not a hair of your head will be harmed.*
